

ACHIEVEMENTS

- Initiated the nationally-adopted Court Referral Program in 1975, along with the help of the Volunteer Center of Los Angeles.
- Organized a conference with a federal government official to discuss concerns over the deficient involvement in the recently-initiated Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP). The consultation resulted in the establishment of a National Advisory Board.
- Assisted the corporate and community leader task force hosted by Tom Bradley in the formation of a permanent training center for nonprofit organizations.
- Participated in the planning of the 1994 International Association for Volunteer Administration Conference held in Anaheim, California and organized the first National DOVIA DAY held during the conference.
- Supported the formation of CONNECT LA, an organization dedicated to connecting groups for community good.

Your Path to Professionalism

Membership Information

HISTORY

DOVIA-LA was launched in the mid 1960's and has since been offering its members educational opportunities, channels to exchange information about issues and developments affecting volunteers, and a collaborative means to take action.

PURPOSE

DOVIA-LA is a professional organization for individuals who provide leadership to volunteers. Members represent a diverse range of non-profit organizations who meet bi-monthly to discuss current issues and share information relating to public, private, and philanthropic organizations serving the greater Los Angeles area.

NETWORK

In order to encourage professional growth, leaders from hospitals, religious and cultural institutions, health care agencies, youth groups, and local governments engage one another in the collaboration and development of new opportunities for advancement.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

DOVIA-LA members enjoy the benefits of collaborating with a diverse network of their peers throughout the greater Los Angeles area. Members have input regarding the focus of education programs and speakers that will benefit them professionally.

DOVIA-LA is an outstanding resource to:

- Find support
- Build professional relationships in the volunteer industry
- Mentor or be mentored
- Network and exchange information
